

Business Environmental Pre-Assessment

Issues of environmental management and social responsibility are becoming increasingly important to organisations. This simple assessment is designed to help determine whether your environmental and sustainability arrangements are likely to satisfy your supply chain requirements.

| This is not a comprehensive evaluation and further assessment would be required to confirm compliance | Yes | No | Don't know |
|--|-----|----|------------|
| Has the organisation assessed its compliance with legal and other requirements? | | | |
| Is there a current documented environmental policy? | | | |
| Has the business identified and prioritised environmental risks? | | | |
| Have environmental objectives been defined and communicated? | | | |
| Does the organisation learn from any incidents and apply the necessary improvements? | | | |
| Have emergency procedures been prepared and tested? | | | |
| Does the management team regularly review environmental performance? | | | |
| Does the organisation have procedures to avoid bribery, abuse, oppression, trafficking and corruption? | | | |
| Has the business identified and engaged with groups that could be affected by its activities? | | | |
| Does the organisation assess the social and environmental impact of its use of resources? | | | |
| Does the organisation have a procedure to deal with reasonable requests for environmental or sustainability information? | | | |

If you answered No or Don't know to any of the questions above you may need to review your management system arrangements.
